Factory Showroom: Industry* opening at the Jacob Lawrence Gallery

An art space is a factory, which is simultaneously a supermarket—a casino and a place of worship whose reproductive work is performed by cleaning ladies and cellphone-video bloggers alike. – Hito Steyerl, “Is a Museum a Factory?”

To look is to labor. – Jonathan L. Beller, “Kino-I, Kino-World”

The University of Washington School of Art + Art History + Design is pleased to announce its first fall Factory Showroom display, Industry, featuring no art, only labor, in the newly renovated Jacob Lawrence Gallery.

With labor by:

Anni Albers	Mokarrameh Ghanbari	Lucy Lippard	Augusta Savage
El Anatsui	Alberto Giacometti	Julie Mehretu	Paula Scher
Kenojuak Ashevak	Katharina Grosse	Claude Monet	Edward Steichen
Constantin Brancusi	Jonathan Ive	Linda Nochlin	Pablita Velarde
Femme Den	William Kentridge	Griselda Pollock	Peter Voulkos
Helen Frankenthaler	Yves Klein	Jackson Pollock	Andy Warhol
Lucien Freud	Yayoi Kusama	Imran Qureshi	Beatrice Wood
Viola Frey	Jacob Lawrence	Auguste Rodin	And many others...

Industry is the first Showroom program as part of Factory, a series of displays, labor demonstrations, motivational speeches, quality controls, and new product launches organized by the Jacob Lawrence Gallery to explore the question, “Is a school a factory?”

Funding for Industry is provided by The Friends of Jacob Lawrence Gallery and the Nebula Project.

ONGOING PROGRAM: Factory Picnic, a labor meeting open to the public held every Wednesday at noon at the Jacob Lawrence Gallery, beginning Wednesday, October 15, 2014.

UPCOMING PROGRAM: Factory Showroom: Idleness, opening November 19, 2014.
